

MME. SCHWIMMER, PEACE ANGEL, SAILS

Neutral Nations Alone Can Settle War, She Declares at Brooklyn Pier.

NO ADIEU FROM MR. FORD

Swedish "Mark Twain" and Russian Prince Aboard
Kristianiafjord.

Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer of Hungary, angel of the Ford peace expedition, sailed yesterday for Copenhagen on the steamer Kristianiafjord of the Norwegian American Line. Mme. Schwimmer, who was reported to have told a group of women friends a couple of days ago that the great war had broken her optimism as to universal peace, said that the chances for a cessation of the struggle in Europe were the same now as they were a year ago.

"The neutral nations are the ones," she said, "who would count in any effort to bring about peace. The belligerents—don't count. If the outsiders get together they could settle the war in no time."

Mme. Schwimmer said she was going to stay at Copenhagen and work for peace as a member of the International Committee for the Immediate End of the War, which she described as "an offspring of the Ford party."

The peace advocate, who arrived late at the pier in Brooklyn, was bidden farewell by a large party of friends, but Henry Ford was not among them. Another passenger on the boat was Albert Engstrom, a cartoonist and writer of Stockholm, who is known as "the Swedish Mark Twain." For a humorist he talked very seriously of the decay wrought in American womanhood by the modern dances. He said that as thought in America they were "too horrible to be thought of, much less spoken about." He prophesied dire results from them—nothing less than the "ultimate tearing down of the structure of the nation."

American women, he declared, were the most beautiful in the world, but they were ruining their health by dancing until they were all fagged out in the small hours of the morning. This was only a small part of the local color which Mr. Engstrom came here to discover in a three weeks stay at the Hotel Pittmore. Every morning he sallied forth with pad and pencil in search of it, finding it richest on the Bowery, or around the Statue of Liberty and the Woolworth building.

Prince Andrew Casaroff of Petrograd was on the first class passenger list. He said he had been here about a year, traveling through the country on private business. He said he liked the country so well he might return again.

GERMAN TRIBUTE TO U. S.

Principal Owner of Deutschland grateful for Her Treatment.

The Hydro, via London, Aug. 26.—The Wolff Bureau gives an account of the address made on the occasion of the return of the Deutschland to Bremen by Alfred Lohmann, head of the German Ocean Navigation Company, owner of the boat. Herr Lohmann said:

"It is with especial joy that I note that all true Americans who are not in Berlin, and men without the independent character of Washington or Franklin, have greeted the Deutschland's feat with satisfaction. It is the pride of our country that we, under the German flag in the midst of war, have succeeded in taking a voyage to America at a time when America herself could not even obtain her European mails without interference, let alone mention numerous other violations of the law of the sea by our enemies against neutrals, especially small powers."

"Your achievement," he said to Capt. Kneib, "symbolizes liberty as we Germans interpret the right of nations to free seas. The enemy could not prevent your departure from Chesapeake Bay. There is no question of a closed North sea as is proved by the many millions of goods brought from America which is now before us."

TWO OFF FRENCH BLACKLIST.

Hermann Kupper and National Zine Company Get Clear Bill.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—The names of two American business have been stricken off the blacklist of concerns with whom trading is forbidden. It was made known by the Journal officiel today.

The names eliminated are those of Hermann Kupper of 22 Murray street, New York city, and the National Zine Company, 2 Stone street, New York city.

11,000 HEAR BILLY SUNDAY.

Evangelist Begins Series of Sermons at Ocean Grove.

OCEAN GROVE, Aug. 26.—Billy Sunday preached the first of his series of "taken sermons" here this morning, and a crowd of about 11,000, most of them women, crunched into the Auditorium to hear him.

The evangelist took the platform in a business costume, a light gray suit, low white shoes and a Panama hat. He was as vigorous as always, waving his arms in the air and shaking his fists as he denounced ordinary sinners and blasphemous preachers.

"Let a preacher get in the pulpit and tear the music from the devil's face and they're shocked to death," he shouted. "So vulgar a thing as brimstone and hell fire will throw them into hysterics. A sermon with the Holy Ghost in it does them to death."

The audience was with him, cheering for minutes at a time and singing the hymns in all Methodist style, especially the familiar "Marching to Zion" and "Blessed the Corner Where You Are."

"COP HUNTS 'NUT' AT HOTEL.

Hit by Ball, He Finds Tennis Stars on Vanderbilt Roof.

Every now and again yesterday through in Park avenue near Thirtieth street were started to see a white streak strike the upper air like a meteor, strike the sky and descend with great momentum and finally resolve itself into a tennis ball, which became the prize of a knowledge of a Seventy-first Regiment Tennis team from the street.

This happened eighteen times without further result. The nineteenth tennis ball hit the cap of Patrolman Berisco at the West Thirtieth street station. He took his cap and his offended dignity into the Vanderbilt Hotel and said he was after the "nut" who was "pegging" tennis balls from the roof.

On the roof he found Maurice E. Mouloughin, William M. Johnston, Clarence J. Griffin, Ward Dawson, R. Morris Williams and W. E. Davis, who had laid out a tennis court and were engaged in tennis practice. Out of two dozen balls they had five left. It hadn't occurred to them that any one would be picking up the lost ones. A backstop is provided them for Monday.

GERARD-BERNSTORFF MESSAGE A MYSTERY

Telegram to Deutschland's
Owners Given as Coming
From Both Envoys.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Several German newspapers, says a Reuter's despatch from Amsterdam, publish a congratulatory telegram to the Deutsche Ozean-Reederei, owners of the submarine merchant ship Deutschland, asserting that the message is from James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador.

A despatch from Berlin published in The Sun yesterday quoted a correspondent of the Muenchener Zeitung as saying that Ambassador Gerard in an interview expressed to him congratulations to the whole German people and also sent a congratulatory despatch to the owners of the Deutschland, asserting that they not only do much in promoting the friendly relations between Germany and America but have shown the world another side of the enterprise and patriotism of German merchants and engineers.

FIGHTS ASH REMOVAL RULING.

Brooklyn Firm Would Force City to Resume the Service.

To get a court ruling on the recent order of the Street Cleaning Department directing the owners of all business and office buildings to remove their own ashes, William H. Goode, counsel for John F. James & Sons, in charge of the Temple Bar Building on Court street, Brooklyn, will seek one of the Supreme Court Justices of Brooklyn in an injunction compelling the department to restore the ash removal service.

AT 80 PRAISES MODERN DRESS.

No Harm to Girls in Present Styles,
Says Mary McGoughlin.

Modern fashions in feminine attire have the approval of Miss Mary J. McGoughlin of 32 Park avenue, Richmond Hill, Queens, who yesterday celebrated her eightieth birthday.

"I see no harm in the modern dress of the young girl of today," said Miss McGoughlin, when her opinion was asked on that subject. "Of course, modern girls laugh at the styles that were considered fine in my day, but never mind, they may be more sensible than we were, after all."

RUNAWAY PRISONER SHOT.

Detective Puts Two Bullets Into Youth Accused of Abduction.

While Detective Leo Giesbrecht and Patrolman Weirich were transferring two prisoners to the Third branch detective bureau last night one of the men, Anthony Schiro, 19, an omnibus boy at the Hotel Marlborough, living at 166 East 117th street, dived out of the back of the patrol wagon, carrying the detective with him.

Schiro ran west in 166th street. Giesbrecht fired three shots, two taking effect. The wounded youth turned into Lexington avenue and ascended to a roof, where he was subdued while trying to leap a fifteen foot wall to the next roof. He is in a serious condition.

Schiro and his brother, John, 17, a bookbinder, were arrested charged with abducting Rosie Blinger, 14, of 30 East Ninety-eighth street. The girl had been missing since Wednesday and told the police Schiro had kept her in a furnished room by force.

TAKES N. Y. MAN AS DESERTER.

New Jersey's Commander Finds
Eddie at Brighton Soda Fountain.

Commander Louis Anthony Kaiser of the battleship New Jersey was promoted to the rank of major and was promoted yesterday afternoon when the face of a soda dispenser in an open air stand attracted his attention. It looked familiar at first glance, and when he had taken another look he was certain.

So he arrested the man, George F. Eddie, 31, of 2327 Webster avenue, The Bronx, one of the naval millionaires who started on the practice cruise, but found it too arduous and deserted a week ago Thursday. At the Coney Island police station the Commander explained that Eddie was under the same discipline as an enlisted sailor and that his desertion was just as serious a crime.

NOT A SKEETER BITE AS 100 VISIT MARSH

Dr. Emerson Shows Results of Extermination Work Near Jamaica Bay.

TIDE A HELP TO DRAINAGE

1,790,000 Feet of Ditches Already Dug—$150,000 Appropriated by City.

Dr. Haven Emerson, Health Commissioner, led a party of civic workers and newspaper men over the marsh land bordering Jamaica Bay, commonly called the Jamaica Bay meadows, yesterday afternoon to show them how salt water mosquitoes are being exterminated scientifically. There were more than 100 in the party. The purpose of the tour was to refute recent newspaper stories to the effect that mosquitoes thrive and multiply under the Commissioner's extermination methods, and that the taxpayers' money is being wasted.

Dr. Emerson showed how the money is being expended and what results can be expected and after the trip was over recalled the fact that not one in the party had been bitten by a mosquito during the afternoon.

The party assembled at Aqueduct, near Jamaica Bay. At Three Mile Creek three power-ditching machines were at work. There are ten altogether. Dr. Emerson explained that these machines cut ditches through the marsh land to connect with Jamaica Bay. Thus the entire marsh is drained, and the rising and falling of the tide in the bay prevents the water in the ditches from becoming stagnant.

As mosquitoes, according to Dr. Emerson, can breed only in stagnant water, the new crop of winged biters will be a complete failure, the Commissioner hopes, through the draining of the breeding places. Thus the mosquitoes will have to tolerate mosquitoes only until the present supply dies of old age.

The expedition was under the auspices of the Queensboro Extermination Committee, of which Samuel W. McKim, Jr. is chairman. He explained how the city appropriated $150,000 for the drainage work; how $80,000 is to be expended along Jamaica Bay and the remainder along Flushing Bay. The Brown-Stinson Company, the contractor, is draining 3,000 acres of marsh at the rate of 3,000 linear feet a day. 1,790,000 feet of ditches having thus far been dug, and how the ditching machines were invented by H. I. Eaton, who is directing their operation.

Anti-mosquito work in New York dates from 1907, when experiments were begun on Staten Island by the Department of Health under Dr. Alvan H. Doty. Since then 23,000 acres of marshland have been drained at a cost of $257,943, of which the city has paid $194,932 and private property owners $592,970. During the coming summer it is planned to drain 3,200 acres of salt marsh and 1,000 acres of fresh marsh, after which the quantity left will be almost negligible.

Many of the towns on Long Island are carrying on the work. Elip has about three square miles of salt marsh, of which the Elip Society has drained 500 acres. The rest will be ditched this year under present plans, the cost being about $16,000. Mamaroneck and New Rochelle have spent more than $7,000.

800 ARE INVITED TO WEDDING.

J. S. Brownson to Wed Miss Shuttlesworth September 9.

Eight hundred invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Margaret Shuttlesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Shuttlesworth of Douglas Manor, L. I., and James S. Brownson, also of Douglas Manor, which will take place in the Church of the Divine Paternity, Universalist, on Saturday afternoon, September 9, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Frank Oliver Hall, pastor of the church, and the bride will be attended by Miss Shuttlesworth's father, an enthusiastic golfer and yachtsman. Mr. Brownson takes a keen interest in charitable affairs.

THE Rev. Father James F. Morrison.

LONG BRANCH, Aug. 26.—The Rev. James F. Morrison, rector of St. Agnes's Roman Catholic Church, Atlantic Highlands, for thirteen years, died at the Monmouth Memorial Hospital here today from intestinal trouble. He was born at Carbondale, Pa., forty years ago and was educated at Niagara University. His first pastorate was Spring Lake. He later served at Trenton, New Brunswick and Woodtown.

ROW OVER STEWARD SPLITS MOTOR CLUB

President McManus Resigns
From Richmond Co. Automobile Organization.

ASTONISHMENT WAS CAUSED IN RICHMOND

Borough last night when announcement was made that Nicholas McManus, president of the Richmond County Automobile Club, not only had resigned as president of the organization but severed his connections entirely with the club.

The Richmond County Automobile Club is composed of wealthy business men of Staten Island and New York. It has a membership of several hundred, and a women's auxiliary, which has a membership of seventy-five women. The club is affiliated with the Automobile Club of America.

Efforts to keep the trouble quiet was successful until last evening. McManus had been president of the club for the last year and a member for ten years.

It was learned last night there had been many stormy sessions, and at a recent meeting the members became so heated that blows narrowly were avoided.

The resignation of McManus, it is expected, will be followed by at least a score of other members, who agree with the president in his stand.

McManus charges the Board of Governors with stifling any possible progress or the club.

The trouble which culminated in President McManus resigning as president of the club was over the steward.

Ralph McKee has been steward of the club for years. McManus maintained that of late the steward had not given the club his proper attention and suggested a new steward be obtained.

On the night on which the selection of steward came up McKee appeared and said he would meet any bid that was received and agreed to put up a bond. This he failed to do, according to McManus, and the Board of Governors went ahead and accepted him. Twelve members of the club were present at the meeting and passed a resolution deploring the action of the board.

The resignation of President McManus

in part says:

"After several years of painstaking effort in conjunction with a few other members in an attempt to place among the best civic and social organizations in the county of Richmond, I am compelled to acknowledge that the task is a hopeless one, as the automobile owners of Staten Island will not support us, the real reason being that the members receive absolutely nothing in return for the payment of their dues."

"The clubhouse is invariably in darkness from one meeting until the next. It is cold in the winter and uninviting at all other times. It is only by a most heroic effort that a quorum can be obtained to hold the regular meetings, and while a great deal of good has been accomplished by the good roads committee, absolutely nothing else has been done."

"The club could have been helped materially by making a lease with a capable steward, but despite the opposition of the regular workers, those members who have attended meetings and other functions, at all seasons and in all kinds of weather, a majority of the board of governors, who never attended a meeting, who never contribute anything, not even by their attendance, made a lease over our protest, thereby stifling any possible progress of the club."

MRS. McADOO NOT IN DANGER.

Case Described as Mild Attack of Typhoid.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., Aug. 26.—The condition of Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury and daughter of President Wilson, was reported last night as satisfactory by Dr. William Gray Schaffner, Surgeon-General of New Jersey, her physician. Dr. Schaffner said her case is not serious and might be described as a mild attack of typhoid.

Dr. Cary T. Grayson, physician to the President, who was called with Dr. Schaffner to attend Mrs. McAdoo, has returned to Washington. Secretary McAdoo, who arrived from Utica, has cancelled all engagements for an indefinite period.

U. S. Consul to Wed Miss Stewart. PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stewart today announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ida Stewart, to Louis A. Clamuel, American Vice-Consul-General at Panama for three years, but recently transferred to Havana. Miss Stewart is a sister of ex-Mayor Percy H. Stewart of Plainfield. The wedding will take place early in the fall.

OWEN WORRIES SENATORS.

Will Insist on Vote on Corrupt Practices Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Senator Owen made another futile effort in the Senate today to get consideration of the corrupt practices bill. Senator Smoot, Republican, objected, but Senator Borah declared the Republican leaders could bind him to no legislative programme and said he desired a vote on both the corrupt practices and immigration bills before adjournment.

Senators Reed and Saulsbury, Democrats, declared they would aid Senator Owen in an effort to get the corrupt practices bill before the Senate, and that precipitated a flutter over the Democratic programme for adjournment next week.

Indications were for a close fight over Senator Owen's motion when he makes it.

Chisholm—Brigham.

Announcement has been made of the marriage on August 21 last of Miss Louise Brigham and Henry Arnot Chisholm in the cloister of the Mission Inn, Riverside, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm will live at 9187 Euclid avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

The New MUSICAL ART An interview with HAROLD BAUER on the DUO-ART PIANOLA

"It is the instrument of a new, musical art!" Mr. Bauer arose slowly from his chair as he gave this answer to a question I had put. He went on thoughtfully, choosing his words unhesitatingly.

"I am intensely interested in the Duo-Art Pianola. I am spending much time and effort with it."

"Do you know what work I was engaged in when you were admitted?" He turned and took from the top of the Pianola which stood against the wall a music-roll. As he drew it out I saw that there were cryptic blue and red pencil marks and annotations opposite many of the perforations.

"This roll," he said, "is a very wonderful record of the Chopin Valse, Opus 42, as I played it a few days ago upon the Duo-Art Recording Piano. Placed in this reproducing Duo-Art Pianola, it duplicates my performance with remarkable precision."

"And I have been sitting here playing the roll a few bars at a time—going over it most carefully—changing here the length of a note, there the strength of a tone—an accent."

"When I first began recording for the Duo-Art, it was the reproducing of my playing that was interesting to me. Now it is the correcting—the 'working-up' of the record, so to speak. Do you see? For the first time I stand aside and impersonally listen to my own playing. I am both critic and artist. Artist, because I can build—improve on the performance."

"I can listen to myself playing. I can hear my performance as a whole and I can repeat a single passage again and again. And I can change what I wish. I can remodel and refine."

"Do you comprehend? It is a new art. When I finally sign the record-roll, it is more than simply my playing. It is my carefully considered artistic conception of the music. As such, it is preserved—a new and wonderful form of musical creation."

He drew a tobacco-case from his pocket and rolled himself a cigarette. Bauer is a man of vigorous mental calibre and like big men in more prosaic callings, inclined strongly towards conservatism. His unexpected enthusiasm and earnestness were therefore all the more significant.

"You consider, then," I asked, "that the Duo-Art is an instrument of real and prime importance to music?"

"Unqualifiedly yes," he answered. "The interesting and authoritative records by all the masters of the pianoforte cannot but make it so."

"And its effect upon musical taste?"

"A magnificent one," he spoke with emphasis. "It will develop a taste for the best in music. For it provides an opportunity to hear interpretations by the great musical artists of the world—an opportunity, I say, for the millions who live today, and the generations of the future to become intimately acquainted with the most wonderful art the pianoforte is capable of."

"Certainly the Duo-Art Pianola is a fitting climax to the really great Aeolian contributions to the art of music. Its value is almost incalculable. This is obvious. Need anyone be told that a piano of splendid musical quality, which furnishes everyone a means of musical expression and which, in addition, reproduces the best aesthetic conceptions of the world's leading artists, is a great instrument—a wonderful innovation?"

I have read the above interview in print and find it an accurate report.

Harold Bauer

The DUO-ART PIANOLA

The Duo-Art Pianola is the greatest—the most wonderful piano the world has ever known.

In the first place it is a magnificent piano, unequalled in tone, in action, in physical beauty. Secondly, it is an improved Pianola—a "player-piano" for you to play with ordinary pianists. As such, it infinitely surpasses anything hitherto known amongst instruments of this type.

And greatest of all—it is a Reproducing Piano of truly miraculous power. By means of special music-rolls, made by pianists while playing a wonderful recording piano, it reproduces their actual performance with absolute fidelity. Every phrase, every nuance, every subtle shade of tone and tempo, every touch of foot to pedal is reproduced.

Bauer has made rolls for this instrument; Gabrieli, Liszt, Chopin, Debussy, Saint-Saens, Godowsky, Granados, Fauré, Schelling, Laparra, Grainger, Carreno, and scores of other famous musicians.

To possess the Duo-Art Pianola is to command the greatest talent of the world—to be able to hear in your own home as often as you will, the most glorious music of the world, played for you by the world's most famous artists.
